NEW TAVERN,
CHILLICOTHE.

WILLIAM KEYS,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints the public, and his friends generally, that he has taken that large and commodious house (lately occupied by Capt. Thomas Gregg) at the corner of Paint and Water streets, sign of the INDIAN KING, where he has opened a Public House, & is furnished with convenient rooms & good beds for the accommodation of travellers, a large stable with separate stalls, good pasture, &c. As it will be his principal object to furnish both house and stable with every necessary the country will afford, he hopes for the patronage of his old customers as well as others, and assures them that no exertion on his part shall be wanting to render their situation agreeable.

6w July 16, 1802.

CHILLICOTHE.

JOSEPH TIFFIN,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints the public, and his friends particularly, that he still occupies the stand formerly known by the name of the RED LION, and is well supplied with every article necessary for the accommodation of travellers—His liquors are of a superior quality, beds and bedding in the best order, tables kept clean, with 22 separate stalls, well supplied with good timothy hay, oats and good pasture—also attentive hollers and servants. Gentlemen willing to retire from the bustle of the tavern, may be accommodated with separate rooms.

Chillicothe, 2d August, 1802.

† No returns were made by three captains from Greene county, one from Davidson, and one fourth of French Broad river, in 1790.

In a late London paper is the following extract of a letter from Mr. Jefferson, to Thomas Paine, about which too much has been said:

"You expressed a wish in your letter to return to America by a national ship. Mr. Dawson, who brings over the treaty, and who will present you this letter, is charged with orders to the Capt. of the Maryland to receive and to accommodate you back, if you can be ready to depart at such a short warning. You will, in general, find us returned to sentiments worthy of former times; in these it will be your glory to have steadily laboured, and with as much effect as any man living. That you may live long to continue your useful labours, and reap the reward in the thankfulness of nations, is my sincere prayer—Accept the assurance of my high esteem and affectionate attachment.

"THOMAS JEFFERSON."

The public mind has been considerably agitated at New-York, in consequence of the arrival at that port of three French ships of war, with between 7 and 800 blacks, taken from Guadaloupe. It is said the poor wretches are almost in a state of starvation; and that application has been made for supplies, to be paid for in bills drawn on the first consul. The independent companies have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness. After enumerating sundry absurd reports, the New-York paper says: "The fact is, we are informed, that some disposition was discovered on the part of the blacks, to rise and force a landing. This circumstance was communicated to the mayor of the city, who, no doubt, thought proper, in case of such an attempt, to have the military in readiness, to oppose the landing on our shores of a set of men so much to be dreaded—men inured to plunder, and familiar with the most bloody massacres—and ripe for every species of cruelty."

Sir,

If you will please to grant the following note a place in your paper, you will oblige Yours &c.

ABEL M. SARGENT.

Mr. Bradford.

In consequence of sundry Sectarian objections to the fundamental principles of that Religion which I believe to be genuine Christianity, I purpose, if God's will, to deliver a discourse at the Theatre in Lexington, on Sunday next, at 4 o'clock P. M. shewing in what true Christianity consists, and who is the genuine Christian.

ABEL M. SARGENT.

Lexington, 2d Sept. 1802.

To the Editor of the Evening Post.

New-York, August 10, 1802.

Sir,

Finding that a fiery long fire propagated under circumstances which it was expected would soon consign it to oblivion, (and by which I have been complimented at the expense of Generals Washington and La Fayette) has of late been revived, and has acquired a degree of importance by being repeated in different publications as well in Europe as in America, it becomes a duty to counteract its currency and influence by an explicit disavowal.

The story imports in substance, that General La Fayette, with the approbation, or connivance of General Washington, ordered the, as the Officer who was to command the attack on a British redoubt, in the course of the siege of York Town, to put to death all those of the enemy who should happen to be taken in the redoubt; and that through motives of humanity I forbore to execute the order.

Positively and unequivocally I declare, that no such nor similar order, nor any intimation no hint resembling it, was ever by me received or understood to have been given.

It is needless to enter into an explanation of some occurrences on the occasion alluded to which may be conjectured to have given rise to the calumny. It is enough to say that they were entirely unconnected with any act of either of the Generals who have been accused. With esteem, I am, Sir, your obedient servant.

A. HAMILTON.

NEW-YORK, August 17.

A LITTLE SQUALLY.—A letter under date of July 6th, just received from an American gentleman in Cadix, by a respectable mercantile house of this city, states, "that the Emperor of Morocco on the 25th of June ordered the American Consul out of his dominions, and proclaimed WAR against the United States; that theropolitans have lately captured two American vessels and one Swede, that they and the Moors are arming with great spirit, and if our government do not send several ships of war there soon, our commerce with the Mediterranean will be abandoned; finally, that 'commodore Morris, aware of the danger is coming here to convey a number of our vessels to the westward.'"

BALTIMORE, August 19.

In consequence of recent intelligence, the President has ordered the frigate New-York to be immediately prepared for sea, and to proceed to the Mediterranean on a cruise. Captain James B. is appointed to the command. The General Greene, which was to have sailed in the early part of the month, will follow in a few weeks (with cannon and other presents to the emperor of Morocco), but not with her full complement of men or guns.

From the latest information, it is apprehended that both the emperor of Morocco and the dey of Algiers, have declared war against the United States. It is therefore thought proper to delay the departure of the General Greene, and send the New-York to protect our commerce.

(Wash. Fed.

Extract of a letter dated "Washington, August 17th 1802.

paragraph has appeared in the Washington Federalist, stating, that from the latest information it is apprehended that both the Emperor of Morocco and Dey of Algiers, have declared War against the United States. Such publications alarm the public mind exceedingly; not only raise the premium of insurance, but cause great uneasiness to those who may have friends or property in the Mediterranean. They also tend to stop expeditions preparing for that sea. It is true that the frigate New-York is sailing with intent to join the squadron under Commodore Morris; but it is not true that there is any appearance of danger from Algiers; on the contrary, the conduct of that regency is of the most friendly kind. The Dey can have no pretext for War, there being nothing due to him from the United States.

Some apprehensions are entertained with respect to Morocco. The Emperor demanded from Commodore Dale, the Swedish Admiral, permission to send two ships laden with wheat for Tripoli, and for his men to take possession of the Tripolitan ship blockaded in Gibraltar, and to carry her to one of his ports. This demand was refused by both commanders; the Emperor about the same time reminded Mr. Simpson, the American Consul, that the American Government had promised 3 years past, to supply him with 100 gun carriages, with which they had never complied. On being refused, the Emperor asked passports for his two ships to proceed with their cargoes of wheat to Tunis; this request was, I believe, refused. Early in June the Emperor renewed the former demand for his two ships to proceed to Tripoli with wheat; and also that the Tripolitan ship of war should be delivered to his people, and a passport given permitting her to proceed to Tripoli; this was of course refused. Commodore Morris had gone over to Tangiers to adjust the subject. Should Morocco go to war, we shall have for the protection of our commerce on the spot, the Chesapeake and Adams. The Constellation and four Swedish ships, will completely blockade Tripoli, and it is expected compel that regency to peace. The New-York will proceed immediately and join the commodore. The Emperor's maritime force is not considered of very great importance; the situation of his ports on the Atlantic alone make him dangerous. It is hoped that when he receives the gun carriages promised him, that he will not persist in such unreasonable demands. Commodore Morris meant to order the Boston and the schooner to join him immediately."

FOR SALE,

At this Office THE LIFE OF CHRIST. Price—4 Dollars.

SACRED TO THE MUSES. INVOCATION TO DESPAIR.

DESPAIR, appear in all thy forms,
Rush on 'midst dark, impending foms,
And overpread the scene;
The mind, immur'd in deep gloom,
Sees pleasure's fun retire at noon,
Nor aught of joy can glean.

In vain the beautiful fun displays
Its shining beams, its splendid rays—
The heart no solace knows:
In vain the silver moon, at night,
Illumes the orbit with her light,
For grief incessant flows.

In vain I turn my wearied eye
Around the globe, towards the sky,
In search of fancied bliss:
Nor gladdening prospect cheers my soul;
Despair, I hear thy willows roll,
I hear thy furious bill.

Depress'd, dejected, fank, forlorn,
Scarce e'en a hope appears to dawn,
But all is woe and pain:
Then why this boisterous life reverse,
When nought but sorrows meet me here:
Let's face the destin'd blow.

Then come despair, in darkest hue,
Present thy cup—I'll taste anew,
And sip the bitter draught—
Without regret, I rise to fate,
My fortunes in another state:
With ill's our world is fraught.

ANECDOTE.

A few days ago a failor was taken up in Southwark, by a constable, for galloping through one of the streets, in violation of an ordinance passed by the commissioners. When brought before, 'Squire—He inquired that the charge made by the constable was false; that his horse could not gallop. The constable had no evidence to prove the fact. The failor proposed to him to mount the horse and convince himself of the truth of what he, had asserted. The constable desirous of proving the charge against the failor, mounted the horse, and began to whip and spur; the horse sprang off, and ran for some distance before the constable could stop him. A crowd by this time had assembled around the Magistrate's door. The constable returned, Jack legs up and accented, "Dear my eyes Mr. Confutable, but you have galloped the horse through the street contrary to law, and here are the witnesses," pointing to those around him, "who can prove the fact, and I insist on you paying the fine." The Magistrate was compelled to fulfil his duty, and the poor Constable was mulct.

RECEIPT

TAKE a modern, first-rate Beau.
TAKE any thing—put it into a pair of pantaloons just large enough to contain one dozen; put a binding on the top of the pantaloons (called a yelt) and attach to the bottom of the shirt an oval glass case with a wig in it; pare away the skirts of its coat to the width of a hat band. If the subject is doomed to pass its time in the house, it will require a heavy pair of round toed jack boots, with a tassel before and behind. Lift it up by the cape of the coat, and pull its hair over its face, put a hat on its forehead, and spectacles on its nose.

N. B. Its hands must on no occasion, be suffered to escape from the pantalon pockets, nor the spectacles from the nose.

J. BIRNEY.

The following proceedings arose from doct. Thos. Champney's having made a race with myself, which he lost. The Mule which Champney was charged with taking feloniously, was one pledged and forfeited by him, as feccitury for the deliverance of one or two horses, to be valued by capt. Gardner and Mr. Barton, to one hundred dollars, on Monday last. It is published for a warning to the public.

LEON. CLAIBORNE.

Lexington, 7th July, 1802.

Fayette County, to wit:

Whereas Leonard Claiborne, of Fayette County, hath this day given information upon oath to me, John Bradford, a justice of the peace for the said county, that on the 7th day of this instant, in the town of Lexington, in said county aforesaid, Doctor Thomas Champney, of the county aforesaid, feloniously did take out of the stable of Robert Bradley, in the town of Lexington, a dark bay mare MULE, the property of the said Leonard Claiborne:—

These are therefore, in the name of the commonwealth, to require you to apprehend the said Thomas Champney, and to bring before me, or some other justice of the peace for this county, to answer the premises, and further to be dealt with according to law. Given under my hand and seal this 7th day of July 1802.

JOHN BRADFORD, (Seal)

To Thomas Oberlin, Constable.

The above executed and returned for trial by Thomas Oberlin, Constable.

Fayette County, set.

SUMMONS Robert Bradley and John Kerby, as witnesses for the commonwealth.

JOHN BRADFORD.

Fayette County, to wit:

Upon examining the witnesses who attended on the within charge, it appears to me, that the Mule was pledged for the payment of money lost on a race; and the within named doctor Thomas Champney, claiming the benefit of an act of assembly, entitled "An act to reduce into one the several acts to prevent unlawful gaming." He is acquitted of the within charge. Given under my hand this 8th day of July, 1802.
